No Paralysis in County

Flies and Filth Spread Disease

Citizens Asked to Clean Up Breeding Places of Flies and Dispose of Garbage

There are no cases of infantile paralysis in Randall county. The disease has spread over the Southwest to a considerable extent, and has been brought to a few towns on the Plains.

Flies are the chief bearers of the disease, and all citizens are urged to make a thorough clean-up of the breeding places of flies. Weed patches, and improper disposal of garbage provide the best breeding places for flies. Every citizen should take immediate action in cutting all weeds.

All wet garbage should be wrapped away from preying flies. All garbage cans should be covered.

Keep away from swimming pools which are not properly regulated.

Officials urge that immediate action in cleaning up Canyon may result in the saving of lives of citizens who could get the disease through sheer carelessness.

No September Call Made Under Selective Service

Randall county will not be called on for men during September, according to information received yesterday by the local Selective Service Board.

The call for 29 men on August 19 is more than the total number of men available. Every available single man and all married men without children have been notified for this induction. About 25 men are all that the county has left. There are several men who are available for limited military service, but it is doubtful as to the number of this class who will be taken.

The status of married men with children is still unknown here. It has been reported a number of times that married men with children would be called in October. However, no information is available at this time as to the probable date of induction of this class of men.

Ray Cole Serving on Crash Boat in the African Sector

According to a letter from Mrs. Ray Cole of Dallas, Ray Cole is serving on a Crash Boat somewhere in Africa. He has been in this sector for about two months. He is Chief Engineer on the same boat which he operated at Miami, Fla.

His Crash Boat is flagship of the squadron, designated as the Amphibion Fleet. The boats are not large enough to carry a cook or stove, so the men live on sandwiches and out of tin cans.

Mrs. Cole was in Canyon last week visiting with Ray's sister, Mrs. Crews Henry, but did not come to Canyon much during her visit here.

Mighty Shasta, Biggest of All

Here is a striking view of the new Shasta dam, just about ready to begin its job of harnessing the Sacramento river near Redding, Calif. When finished, Shasta will take its place in a triumvirate of largest dams in the world—Boulder, tallest; Grand Coulee, most massive, and Shasta, taller than Grand Coulee and more massive than Boulder.

Abandon Wheat Yield Is Under Estimate

About 10% of Acreage Is Abandoned As Unprofitable For Farmers to Harvest

Harvest is over for most of the farmers of Randall county, although about 10% of the wheat still stands in the fields. This wheat is swallowed up by high weeds. In view of the small yield possible in most cases, farmers have abandoned the wheat as being impractical to harvest. The yield on much of the wheat which has been abandoned would run 5 bushels or less per acre, and the expense of handling the wheat and weeds would amount to more than the value of the wheat.

The wheat crop will not be as much as estimated early in harvest. Had the weather remained favorable, allowing all of the wheat to be harvested, there was a good chance for fifty per cent of the yield of last year. 1942 set a high record yield of 17 bushel average over the county. Just as harvest got underway this year the heavy rains started, which did much damage to the wheat and caused the growth of weeds which finally choked the wheat.

According to available information some parts of the eastern section of the county made as high as 15 bushels per acre. However, the acreage making this yield was not large. Much of the west part of the county made only about 5 bushels per acre.

Bond Sales Are Far Under Quota For Month July

Randall county lacks one-third of the July quota of being over the top.

The quota for the month is $24,500, and the sales up to Tuesday night amounted to $16,555.75.

With $8,000 to go sales must be brisk for the balance of the month if the July quota is met.

Farmers Advised Not to Overplant

Danger of Erosion and Need of Feed Stressed in Plea of Planting More Wheat

Randall county farmers will be advised within the near future as to the 1944 wheat acreage goal for the county. The acreage for each farm will likely be in the nature of a "goal to be met" rather than a definite allotment of acreage. It has been announced that the National wheat acreage goal, as requested by the Food Administration, has been set at 68 million acres for 1944 harvest as compared to the allotted acreage of 55 million for the 1942 and 1943 crops.

The Texas State acreage goal has been set at 5,200,000. The 1943 Texas allotment was about 3,750,000 acres. Thus, we see a requested increase of about 38% in the State wheat acreage for seeding this fall. No county goals have as yet been announced.

It is understood that no penalties for over seeding any crop will apply to any part of the 1944 program.

No announcement has been made as to eligibility for wheat loans or whether deductions will be made for under-planting any crops.

Leading farmers and county agents in the principal wheat areas of the Panhandle are of the opinion that we are likely to increase our wheat acreage beyond the point of safety from the standpoint of wind erosion. Under the program of expanded food production every acre is supposed to be used for whatever food production it is best suited. Every farmer in this area, according to the program as now proposed for 1944, will be expected to decide for himself how much wheat to seed for the 1944 harvest.

If the livestock in Randall county is maintained at the present numbers it is pointed out that more feed crops will be needed.

If Randall county farmers follow the increase in wheat requested for Texas it would raise the wheat acreage to nearly 70% of the cropland of the county. This would leave only a little over 30% for all other crops and summer fallow. Many wheat growers follow the practice of summer fallowing one-third of their land for wheat. This would be impossible if the acreage of wheat is expanded in line with the State goal.

Metal Drive Being Made by Olympic Theatre Matinee

The copper-brass matinee of the Olympic Theatre will be held this afternoon. Bring your old scrap metal and get a free ticket to the matinee.

W. J. Wooten has placed a large box in front of the Olympic in which all citizens are asked to deposit old brass and copper. This metal is needed in war construction.

Those citizens who cannot attend the matinee are requested to bring in their old metal this week in order that Randall county may make a large donation to the metal pile.

Lt. Smith is in the Maps and Charts division of the Air Corps.

Wheat To Weeds Lack of Wind Causes Shortage of Water

High Temperature and a Light Shower Only Variety of Weather for the Week

A light shower of .12 inches fell in Canyon Saturday night. Parts of the county received good rain, but some sections failed to receive more than fell in Canyon.

Owing to the high temperature of the past 10 days, crops are needing rain very badly.

The most serious condition is among stockmen who are out of water for their stock. There has been so little wind that windmills have not run enough to keep the stock tanks filled. This is a most unusual condition for the Panhandle.

Fall gardens are being planted all over the county, and according to reports these are making a rapid growth.

HARLEY STONE TRANSFERRED

Aviation Cadet Harley Stone has completed training at Tulsa, Okla., and will arrive the latter part of the week at the Pampa Air Field for advanced training. He will have a few hours off duty to visit his wife and new son in Amarillo.

What Do Babies Cost?

Celebrating her fourth birthday by attacking a big cake is Sharon Derer, Chicago's budget baby. Her mother, Mrs. Joseph Derer, a former bookkeeper, made Sharon famous by keeping accounts just to prove a baby isn't a luxury. Gifts from nearly 30 relatives slashed this year's expenses down to $273, $11 less than last year's. Waiting to help with the cake is Kay Ainkaburg.

Congressman Eugene Worley has introduced a bill to require five years' experience in the kind of business affected before orders may be issued by an official of OPA. If such a law had been in effect from the start there would not have been such a muddle in OPA and other governmental agencies. College people have resented the manner in which the public has lambasted professors who have made a mess of various governmental agencies. When President Roosevelt took office he was confronted by the worst depression the nation has ever had. Various theories were advanced, and college professors were placed in key positions because they had theories as to how the situation should be handled. They caught the fancy of the President, and theories continued until the war started. Perhaps no other classes of citizens gave their ideas to the President so freely as did these men who were not afraid to try new ideas in government. It has not been revealed as to the per cent of professors who were placed in the key positions of the nation. Maybe there are not as many as the public likes to think. But since it is altogether likely that too large a percentage of key places are filled from this one profession at the expense of all other vocations, the results are unsatisfactory to the public. Democracy stands for the rights of all classes, and unless the governing body is represented by all classes of people, government is likely to be warped. OPA has come in for a lot of razzing because of the vague and impracticable orders which are issued. Our Congressman is correct in this bill to limit the powers of executives to the field in which they have been trained, and which they understand.

The Pope has denied that he protested the bombing of Rome, other than to deplore the bombing of all cities and all churches. Naturally no one will be much concerned with the protests coming from Germany, or from the Fascists of Italy. We remember the hundreds of churches, schools, hospitals and thousands of homes which have been laid waste by the bombs from Axis planes in England and all of the conquered nations. Mussolini could have saved Rome from bombing by declaring it an open city and not concentrating war equipment in the city. As a city, Rome is no more a holy place than London or any of the other cities which Hitler and Mussolini laid waste. Naturally the Axis attempted to make it appear that the entire Catholic church was incensed over the bombing of Rome. Since the Axis has no regard for either Catholic or Protestant religions, it matters not what the Axis murderers may think. Their action in destroying both Catholic and Protestant churches speaks louder than words.

The navy handed us bad news Friday. It was predicted that the war could last for six more years. Naturally no one in America, even the high naval officers, expects the Axis will be able to hold out for six years. However, it is better to prepare for a long war, and have it end soon, than to be caught again unprepared as we were at Pearl Harbor. Navy officers deplored the passive attitude of the people. In this we believe they are considerably wrong. There may be some people who do not realize that a war is on, but when practically every home in the nation has contributed men to the fighting forces, how in the name of common sense can the fathers and mothers of these men be passive in their attitude? Maybe there is a letdown in the outward display of patriotism, but it is known that the people at home, generally, are working harder and for longer hours than ever before, and they do not have time for flag waving.

Production in our war plants has declined since April, according to officials in Washington. Complacency among the workers is said to be the reason. It is the American trait to slow down when there are strong signs of victory, and to work harder in the face of defeat. The tide of the war changed early this spring. The workers are being paid the highest wages in their lives, thanks to the free hands in Washington who are wasting billions of dollars; war workers feel secure in their jobs and are in no danger of the draft, thanks to regulations from Washington. If there is a slow down, we believe that these two situations are entirely to blame. No one can sell the American people now on the idea of not winning the war, and therefore, it is hard to keep war production at high pitch. Furthermore, it is altogether impossible to keep a nation in high key at a time when our leaders are telling us that the end of the war is in sight.

Prairie Lodge To Be Home of W. T. Men Thru Winter

Prairie Lodge at 2111 Seventh Avenue will be a home for W. T. boys during the 1943-44 session.

Members of the faculty who have been in the field recently believe that there will be a good number of boys in college this fall, and other accommodations than those at Prairie Lodge, which will take care of 16 or 18, have been tentatively arranged for. Professor Mitchell Jones and Dean Geraldine Green have been working on the problem. Boone McClure, who has been in several counties in the last ten days, says, "I am sure we are going to have more boys on the campus this fall than most people have expected."

It has been learned that boys and their parents are agreed that going to college one semester before going into military service is much better than not going to college at all. In discussing this matter, it was pointed out that recent statements have been made by military authorities to the effect that boys in college will be deferred for more study, beginning this fall, than they have been allowed in the past.

Leo Jackson, former Buffalo, has resigned as head football coach of the Olney High School Cubs to take the coaching duties at Tahoka High School.

Old Mussolini threw in the towel Sunday and called it a day. What the immediate results will be is only a matter of guess. Americans who know Italy believe that the nation will quit the war in a matter of a few days. They believe that the King and his new group of advisers will realize the futility of carrying on the war and will ask for peace terms. The crack-up of Mussolini should have a sobering effect upon the people of Germany and Japan, if they ever find out the truth. Where Mussolini is hiding has not been revealed, but it is a safe bet that he took millions of dollars with him to be all his own until such a time as the United Nations try him as a war criminal. Hitler and Tojo should realize that the path of all dictators end just as it did for Mussolini, and down the same path they will be going ere long.

We have heard of only two classes of men complain at their jobs in the armed forces: 1st, those who are assigned to the detention camps; and 2nd, the men in the Military Police service. Men who are called upon to guard war prisoners complain because they are stuck away with nothing except routine duties. They want action, and walking guard around a prison camp is most uninteresting. M. P. service has been the butt of so many army jokes that all who are called upon to serve in the branch are conscious of being in an objectionable job. While other boys enjoy themselves on the trains or on the streets the M. P. must be on duty and subjected to many wisecracks. But this is war, and all of those boys in both branches are doing a necessary job, and should be proud of it.

Had an interesting talk with a discharged soldier who was wounded in the Pacific. After 14 months in that area; three months in the hospital; and still carrying shrapnel in his body, the soldier was delighted to be back home. He had a bright outlook on life and since he could no longer serve in the fighting forces was anxious to meet the one and only girl, get married and settled down in his old job. He was overwhelmed with the kind treatment that he was receiving. Such a fine spirit is inspiring to those of us who are not called upon to serve in the armed forces, but who see thousands of our finest young men entering the service.

Americans have been thrilled in the past by the fighting spirit of General de Gaulle. But now we are disgusted, and would like to see him removed from his high position. While he has been a national hero of the French because of his fighting spirit at a time when France was under the heels of the dictators, de Gaulle is now more interested in his personal success than in the welfare of France. France has been the victim of such vicious men during the past years and was thereby an easy victim of Hitler and his outlaws. The Allies are placing their faith on Giraud.

The sales tax bobs up again. Congressmen are seriously considering the enactment of such a tax as the only method whereby adequate war financing may be passed. We have been having the sales taxes in modified form. The people have been fooled into believing that the sales tax is a terrible thing with which to contend, but we are paying such a tax on many kinds of goods, without realizing it. If a general sales tax had been imposed years ago, the nation would not have such a mass of limited sales taxes, and the national treasury would be in much better condition.

Political observers believe that Goebbels is laying the foundation for World War III in his campaign of hate. He advises the Germans to enjoy the war as peace will be terrible; that the German field armies are not beaten, but are victims of "air pirates" bent on destruction of the Reich. That's the reason we must have a world police force to hold the Germans in check after they are defeated in this war.

During Caesar's time it took only 75 cents to kill a soldier in war. Today the cost has mounted to $50,000 for every man killed. This is the most expensive war the world has ever seen. Mechanized, scientific war takes barrels of money. Uncle Sam needs all of your spare cash and asks that you invest your money with him in War Bonds. It is the safest investment on the face of the globe.

When Italy collapses, we shall have 40 million more people to feed. But the feeding of these hordes will be less expensive than the loss of American lives which would be necessary to take the nation by force of arms. Besides this, when Italy does collapse, we shall be just so much nearer Berlin, and a lot of those Italian soldiers will welcome a chance to take revenge on Hitler.

What will happen to the thousands of German troops in Italy now that Mussolini has resigned? The Germans are unwelcome intruders in the eyes of the average Italian, and a good many of Hitler's soldiers will probably be found with a dagger in their backs. They should not object since stabs in the back is a fine old Axis habit.

Sicily is about to fall before the United Nations. This does not mean the end of the European campaign. We have a hard war ahead when it comes to penetrating Hitler's lines.

It would not be surprising to see Dictator Franco of Spain following in the footsteps of Mussolini, who was responsible for Franco's success.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

"Crime doesn't pay" has been the theme of many speeches and editorials—but it does. Crime pays the writers for the true detective magazines.

Your columnist made more out of the Santa Claus bank robbery than the bandits did. They had possession $12,000 for about 10 minutes—(oy figure the interest on that) whereas one of the detective magazines paid me $300 for an article on the crime.

The most harrowing experience this writer ever had in doing an article for the murder mystery magazines was in connection with the Snow case at Stephenville. Congressman Sam Russell was district attorney in the case and took the lead in solving the riddle which sent a three-time killer to the electric chair. Congressman Russell spent a quiet Sunday afternoon in outlining the case of the triple murders to me several years after it ended and then, late that afternoon, I went down to the newspaper office and worked well up into the night putting the story on paper in the dark and deserted building—that is, dark except of course for the one light over the typewriter.

The chain of events began with two men who set forth to put out traps. They came to a cellar, partly caved in, beside the ashes of an old farm house. They decided the cellar would be a good place to put a trap and one of them clambered down. He noticed in the dimness a townsack dangling from the rafters. He took it down and carried it outside, opened it and found a pair of eyes peering at him from the sack!

It contained a man's head.

Well, that was the start. By the time I had written the full story of the three murders and the solution, my nerves were so jumpy that the scurrying of a rat across the floor in the rear nearly caused me to knock over the chair in which I was sitting.

A dorky, asked by the draft board how many dependents he had, replied, "I has foah dependents but I can't depend on none ob dem."

A lawyer, noted for his success in cross-examination, found his match in a recent trial, when he asked a long-suffering witness how long he had worked at his business of tin-roofing.

"I have worked at it off and on for some time, but have worked at it steady for the past 12 years."

"How long off and on have you worked at it?"

"Sixty-five years."

"How old are you?"

"Sixty-five."

"Then you have been a tin-roofer from birth."

"No, sir; of course I haven't."

"Then why do you say you have worked at your trade 65 years?"

"Because you asked how long off and on I had worked at it. I have worked at the trade 65 years—20 years on and 45 off."

Here there was a roar in the courtroom, but not at the expense of the witness, and the lawyer hurriedly finished his examination in great confusion.

GET THE STICK!

Hitler stood at the edge of the English Channel and looked longingly across the water. He decided that the problem was too much for him, and summoned the oldest rabbi in the countryside who, he believed, could give him expert advice. Hitler explained his problem and the rabbi said: "Well, that's not so difficult. Moses had the same problem 3000 years ago?"

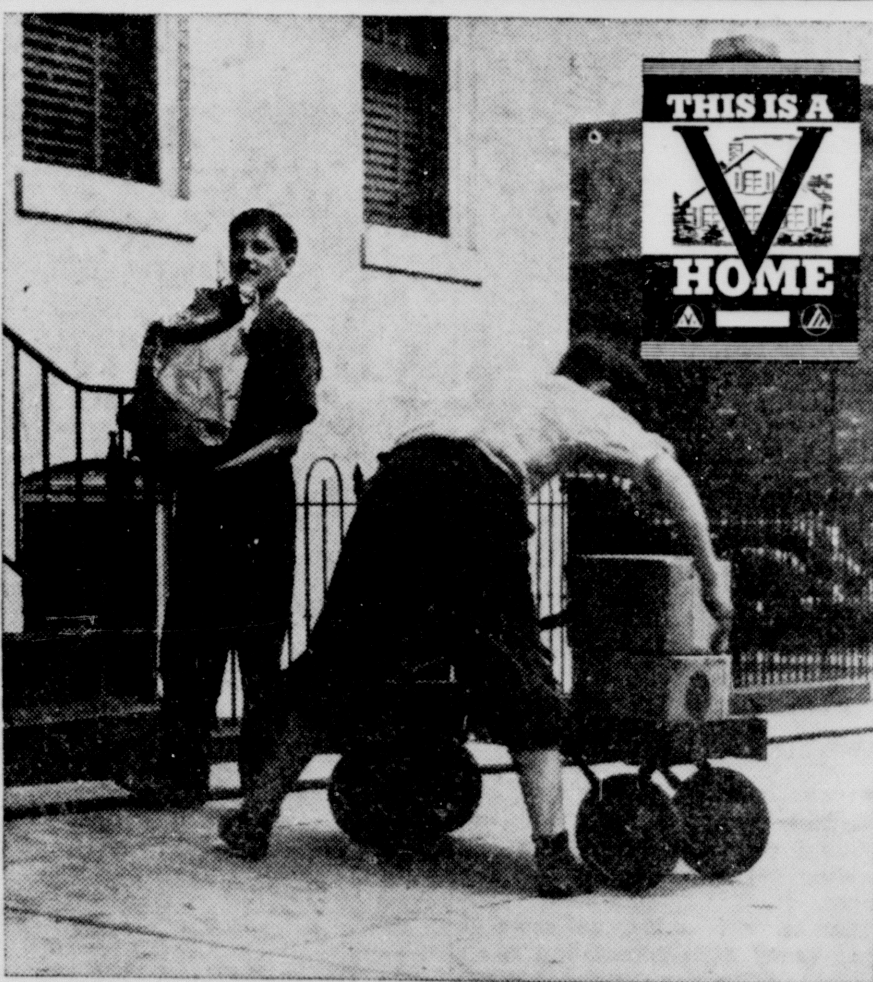

"What did Moses do?" asked the Fuehrer.

"He solved it very simply," answered the rabbi. "All he did was to pick up a certain stick and smite the waters and everything was han-

Boys and girls, eager to do all they can to speed victory, are conserving rubber, gasoline and manpower by using their wagons for many of the small errands that formerly were done with a delivery truck or the family car.

REMEMBER THEM WITH WAR BONDS

There aren't many of these grand old warriors left, but 7 million of the great-grandsons and great, great-grandsons of these men and their comrades are in fighting uniform today. They're united in a common cause—to lick the Axis.

Place a wreath in memory of those who are gone; carry on with another War Bond for those who fight today.

Longer Life For Your Kitchen Tools

Here are tested, practical suggestions that will give you longer life and more efficient service from many things you use in your kitchen.

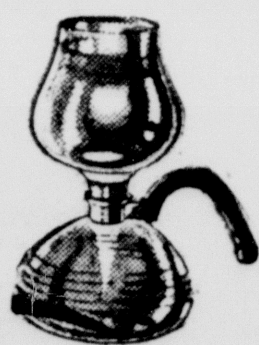

All kinds of pots and pans deserve your special attention. Don't let food burn or stick in them. To prevent breaking or warping, don't leave utensils over heat without something in them.

ENAMELWARE should not be subjected to high temperature. Don't drop it or give it harsh blows, and never dash cold water in it while it is still hot. Wash it with sudsy water or a very fine cleanser. Harsh cleansers will scratch the surface.

ALUMINUM will stay bright and shiny if it is washed with hot, soapy water. Rinse and dry thoroughly. Aluminum, like silver, will turn dark if you boil eggs in it—or other foods containing sulphur. Use granite or enamelware for eggs and other alkaline foods.

GLASS is easily cleaned with soap and water. To prevent breakage, avoid sudden temperature changes; don't pour cold water into a hot pan; don't set a pan or casserole directly from the range on a wet surface. Always cook with at least one-half inch of water in the bottom of glass utensils.

TINWARE should be soaked after using, and washed in warm soapy water. Dry thoroughly before putting away. Don't scour with abrasives—the coating may wear through and cause rust. To guard against warping, don't cool tin utensils rapidly. The dullness that comes with use makes them better heat conductors.

The last meeting previous to the summer vacation was held by the Ladies Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church on July 27.

"Social Education and Action" was discussed by Mrs. Harvey Cash, and Mrs. A. L. Tarleton. In her talk, Mrs. Cash deplored the course that our educational institutions had necessarily to take, and that the American people could not be too cautious as to their course of action for the welfare of the people. "Come, come!" said the sales manager. "Don't look so down in the mouth. I know it's difficult at first, but you'll soon get on to it. Aviation Cadets on Rotary Club Program Tuesday Noon

T. S. Stevenson was in charge of the Rotary Club program Tuesday and introduced a group of Aviation Cadets who are in the 350th College Detachment at West Texas State.

Captain John W. Worsham, medical officer, introduced the men. John V. Diener, from Wisconsin, was among the first group of American soldiers to go to Alaska. His unit landed on a barren island where an air base was built. He described the hard life which the men endured, and praised all of the Americans who are holding Alaska from the Japs.

Leo E. Staib of Missouri told of work being done in another part of Alaska while he was there for 14 months. Lack of mail was the greatest handicap of the men. He told of an 1800 pound bear which was killed by the soldiers.

Roy Sharples was in still another part of Alaska. He described the hardships of getting a camp ready, and the 18 hours per day that the men worked on their jobs. Fish were plentiful and the men caught salmon and trout by hand.

John E. Daniel of Ohio was on a ship bound for the Philippines when the Japs made their attack. They were landed in the Hawaiian Islands and he served in various parts of this group. With 50% of the population Japs, American soldiers were on constant alert. Detention camps held those Japs which were unloyal. He witnessed some of the destruction of Pearl Harbor.

James B. Tierney of California played two piano solos.

Visitors were: H. M. Atkins, Louis H. Smith, F. R. Barnes, Ed Broome, S. B. Whittenburg, Bob Clements, John Cowan, all of Amarillo; Bob Lindsey and Ben Coppock, Borger.

Mitchell Jones In Experiments Before the Lions Club

The study of the mind is a fascinating subject according to Lion Mitchell Jones, who appeared on the program at the Tuesday luncheon. Lion Jones conducted two interesting experiments, one concerning the association of words, and the other on the power of suggestion. Subjects used in the experiments were Lion Joe Findley and Lion Guinn of Friona. Lion Gilmore assisted in the second experiment.

Cal Farley of Amarillo will bring the program next week.

OUR FOUR FREEDOMS

On every side we hear the Four Freedoms mentioned. Just what do they mean?

FREEDOM OF SPEECH—It means that you, or anyone else in America, has the right to stand up and tell the whole world what you think. If you don't like the way your country is being run, you have the power to stand up and say so without fear of the Gestapo or any other secret police organization, stopping you, or throwing you in prison. It means that you can speak to your neighbor of what you are thinking, and he can disagree with you without fear of being shot for it. At election time, you can rise and speak your mind with the knowledge that you are entitled to do so, because you are a citizen of the greatest nation in the world. When it comes time to vote for the President, you are free to speak for or against whomever you please, because you are living in a free country.

THAT'S FREEDOM OF SPEECH, AND IT'S WORTH FIGHTING FOR.

FREEDOM OF RELIGION—The right of you and your family to worship wherever you wish. The right to go to church in the light of day, and have no fear of reprisal from the government, because you have disobeyed their orders. The right to worship when and where you desire; to serve the God of your choice, and not the one appointed by the dictators.

DO YOU APPRECIATE THIS FREEDOM OF RELIGION?

FREEDOM FROM FEAR—The right to own or possess a gun, a radio, a camera, without fear of being thrown in prison. In the conquered countries any one caught with the above named articles, is an enemy of the state, and must pay a severe penalty for possessing such things. If you were living in any of the countries which is under the Dictator's heel, you would not feel safe at any time of the day or night. At any time, the secret police would be liable to enter your home, and demand that you give them food and lodging. It wouldn't matter whether you had anything for yourself, because your refusal would mean death or imprisonment.

Isn't it better to live in a country where your home is your castle, and where you are the master of it? Or would you rather live in a country where you would never be able to rest securely because of the fear of the government agents who might suddenly break into your home?

THAT'S FREEDOM FROM FEAR, AND WELL WORTH FIGHTING FOR.

FREEDOM FROM WANT—In America, you can go to the nearest store and order the food you like best, and know that you have no fear of shortage. True, you may not be able to get everything you want at the present time, but remember, we are fighting for the Four Freedoms right now. You still can go in and ask for a great number of articles which, in the conquered countries, are reserved for the leaders only. You can go to the nearest gas station and get all the gas you want for pleasure driving, as soon as we finish our battle for freedom of the world. It is far better to give up a little pleasure driving to insure our winning the war, than it is to have gas now, and let men on the front be held back because of lack of it. Think it over carefully the next time you plan to do any pleasure driving.

The next time you hear anyone complaining about the rationing, remind them that we are fighting for our very lives, and the preservation of the Four Freedoms. Tell them that it is far, far better to have a little inconvenience now, than it would be to have a life in which the Four Freedoms were playthings of the Dictators.

WHICH WOULD YOU PREFER, AMERICA?

Last Will and Testament

The members of Squadron "W," 350th College Training Detachment, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath to the members of the new class, the following traits and habits. They hope that the new men will live up to the gifts they are receiving, and pass them on to the next class.

From William Thompson—His ability to sleep through all his classes without a worry on his mind about what he might miss.

From William McCarthy—His technique with the women, and his ability to handle any situation that may arise.

From John Rooney—The ready smile and cheerful word he has for everybody, and his determination to wind up behind the controls of a B-17.

From Karl Pence—His hope that he may some day get enough sleep so that he won't have to fight to stay awake during Physics.

From Carl Seifert—His ability to take out a different young lady each week-end, and still be friends with all of them.

From Gene Hardy—The hope that when this is all over, he can retire to a farm in Missouri, and spend the remaining days of his life in peace, far from the struggle and toil of the city life.

From C. E. (Buck) Fisher—The wish that he be allowed to stay up as long as he wants at night, especially on the nights he makes those long-distance calls.

From K. D. Matthes—His wish to catch on in Physics, and the hope that he will some day get enough nerve to ask a girl for a date.

From James Payne—His desire to live the life of a country squire, and his hope of finding a girl with enough money to enable him to live that kind of a life.

From Robert "Gremlin" Judnick—The hope that he will some day be able to retire to a life of ease and not have to worry about living in the poor-house when the war is over.

From James Oliver—His aptitude at getting Physics. He never has to study, and he always gets high marks. He will his seat next to the smartest person in all his classes.

From Jack Stephenson—His cynical attitude towards all things, and his way of handling flight two, which is indeed a marvelous job. He has the ability to handle the men in a manner which keeps them all happy.

From Al (Longhorn) Gunter—The speed which he has when it comes time to report to "Shorty" at Cousins Hall. He can really move when he has to.

From W. Eckfeld—The way in which he goes to work in Physics Lab, and his ability to solve those tough problems in such a short time.

From Joe Dunne—His ability to fall asleep under the watchful eyes of the teacher, and make the teacher think he is still awake, by the manner in which he holds his pencil poised.

From Max Dysart—His ability at getting invited out to those chicken dinners, and the manner in which he keeps the cat in the bag. Also for the way he keeps the cafeteria staff cheered up and keeps them serving those good meals.

From Bob Pearson—His aptitude at keeping a certain young lady doing his errands, and keeps her coming back for more of the same treatment. He says it's the only way to treat them.

I certify that this last will and testament was made before me this 25th day of July, in the year of our Lord, 1943, and that all statements contained herein, are true, and were made by those to whom they are credited.

JAMES E. DOE,
Notary Public.

Flight One

By MOOSE

The aquatic performance by the young ladies of the college, was presented to the Aircrew students last Thursday, and was really enjoyed by all. As a general rule, the students attend and appreciate entertainment of this kind.

Those students who walked the ramp this week graduated from the drill field to the football field and the rank and file was arranged in an entirely new manner. There is a decided improvement in Flight One's behavior and we are sure that coming weeks will see Flight One carrying off the first place honors as it did twice last week.

Our First Sergeant, Mr. Allie, is on furlough and the selection of Mr. Olson to fill the position, is indeed a wise one. Mr. Olson's position as Flight Sergeant is being well handled by Mr. Whaley.

Flight Two has some stellar athletes, it's true, but Flight One has some very good men, also. Mister Ward Stone is really good at swimming. Mr. Olson and Mr. Joy are great on the football field, Robert Pearson, basketball, and Emmett Sharp at orations. Seems to us that flight two forgot one of their best athletic performers when they left out the name of Irv. Roth.

If you happen to hear a continual babble from the Science building to Buffalo Courts, or vice versa, don't become alarmed, as it's only flight one singing, "Row, Row, Row, your Boat," and, although the men sing in augmented time, they keep the cadence in marching.

tory, acquired a new member last week when AC-S Frank Davis took up a seat there. Frank gets good grades in Physics Lab, so he is welcome at the table.

The dances given at Cousins Hall for the Aircrew Students have been rather slighted by the men. For the past two weeks the crowd has fallen off quite a bit, and rumor has it that the dances may be discontinued. We all enjoy dancing, and it would not be fair to the students who will come later, if we allow the dances to be discontinued because of our failure to attend. So let's show a little consideration and make it a point to attend each Saturday dance.

Several of the fellows of this Squadron would like to know why we haven't had a swimming meet on one of our Saturday Physical Training schedules as there are quite a few of the Misters interested and willing to participate. (Did any of the men figure out where the time was going to come from? Some class is busy when we have P. T.)

Squadron W is qualified now, by seniority, to handle the work of the S. O. D. and T. O. D. The job is taken seriously by the men as their turn arises, and each member of the group will get his chance at it. The job is enlivened by the highballs thrown by the fellow misters.

This is all for this week, but we'll have the latest for you next week.

Squadron "T"

Alvin Stramler

Squadron "T" fell into line last week and received their books, their schedule of classes, and started to school on Thursday. Several of us haven't seen the inside of a school in five years, and this makes it pretty hard for us to catch on because we have forgotten many of the things we knew.

Most of us like it here, very much. Although we have been separated because of the division of the group into classes, we still like it here. Before we came here, we had not seen very much grass, and the closest thing to a tree we had, was mesquite. There is enough difference between the chow here and that of another field I know, as there is between day and night.

Most of the fellows in the squadron here are from Texas, but there are a few other states in the country.

I have been told by a reliable source that some of the men can't find time to study. Would some one please advise us how to get our studies done in a short time?

Some jeweler made a nice profit Saturday night for one of the boys in this squadron bought an engagement ring. I wonder if he is figuring on getting married, soon?

Several of the fellows were disappointed last week-end. They expected their wives to come in and see them. Some of them will be mighty happy to know that I have been tipped off by a reliable source that their wives are coming this week.

What's this I hear about Romeo Rodine becoming a Casanova of the clouds even without his wings, and capturing the heart of some fair maiden in the fine city of Canyon?

Casanova Bryan Mathes, Jr. hasn't lost any time getting acquainted since he arrived here. I was told that he makes all the girls make appointments to go with him instead of his making the date to go with them. Boys, we will have to get better acquainted with Mr. Esquire Mathes, Jr.

What some fellows would like to know, is the name and address of the fair red head in a certain drug store I know of.

Here is a poem that this correspondent has picked up in his travels, and I think it would do a lot of good if certain people would read it.

And if our lines should sag and break,
Because of things you fail to make,
That extra tank, that ship, that plane,
For which we waited, all in vain.
Will you then, come take the blame?
For we, not you, must pay the cost.
Of battle you, not we, have lost.

By an unknown soldier on Baatan.
With this thought, I must leave you, but I'll be back next week.

CANYON
TAILORING CO.

Roses and Thorns

This week we are reviving, by popular request, a column which was started in the first editions of the "Gremlin Gab." From the first the column was a great success, and we hope the future columns will be as successful.

The Editor.

ROSES: To our Physics teacher, Doctor Kemp, who gives up so much of his free time to try and help his students understand their work. He is devoting about twenty-five hours a week in the hope that it will help the men to better understand Physics.

To Mr. Briggs, our math teacher, who is more interested in having the men understand their work, than in the amount of territory he covers. He would rather cover five pages and have the men understand it, than cover the whole book, and have no one get anything from the course.

To all the instructors in the school, who give their time to helping us understand our work, and who are always available to aid us in our problems.

To Mrs. Green, Dean of Women at the college, for her splendid work at the dances and the manner in which she handles them. Always ready with a cheerful word and a ready smile, her work at the dances is a real contribution to keeping the morale of the men at a high pitch.

To our own officers, who are ever ready to help us in our problems, and who aid us in every way possible. We hope to leave here and be a credit to the Detachment, wherever we may go.

Finally, to all the members of the faculty, the house mothers, and the students on the campus, who are doing all they can to make our stay here as pleasant as they can.

THORNS: To those men who insist on breaking regulations and who cause the rest of the group to pay for their mistakes.

To the men who throw cigarette butts about the area, and who never stop to think about keeping the area clean.

To those who insist on talking in the halls of the Science building, thereby causing the entire detachment to be called down.

To those who fail to conduct themselves in the proper manner, when they are off post, and bring disgrace to the uniform they wear.

To the men who fail to realize that they are here to learn and not for a vacation. The very few of these that there are, are causing a few of the civilians to wonder if their money is being wasted.

To those who fail to appreciate the fine work our instructors are doing, and continue to feel that they are privileged characters, and that the instructors should be on call whenever they want them.

Finally, to that small group of men, who over-stay their pass each time there is an open post, and cause the officers to punish them. These men should realize that they are not here for personal pleasure, that the government is paying for their education, and that the least they can do, is to cooperate by getting the most out of their work.

Flying Buffaloes

Flight Two

Another week has come and gone, and the fateful day is steadily drawing nearer. That fateful day, is the day when Flight Two will climb aboard a bus, and be taken to the airport to begin their flying. Many and varied are the comments one hears about Buffalo Courts. Only one thing is certain—all the men are looking forward to their flying with eager anticipation. Each one is determined that he will master the art before the rest of the men know what it is all about. Many stories have been circulated by the boys from Stafford Hall about the difficulties of flying, and the way the instructors teach the men. From these stories, the boys have learned only one thing. Don't believe anybody, until you try it yourself. There seems to be a move on foot to have the instructors at the field increase their life insurance.

before our group starts to fly. The men all agree that it would probably be a wise thing for the instructors to do. Be that as it may, the men are all confident that they can master the art of flying, and all are eagerly awaiting the great day when we will start.

Last Wednesday an open house was held for the wives and girl friends of the men in Buffalo and Terrill Courts. From the number of couples strolling about, it was evident that the affair was a great success. The Detachment Area was dotted with couples strolling about and giving the place a looking over.

The girls from the College gave a swimming show, and later, many of the civilians who attended, took advantage of their opportunity to see the Detachment Area. The drug store was kept busy supplying cokes, and other soft drinks, and a good time was had by all concerned.

Just a few items of gossip this week, but enough to let you know what is doing by the men.

The envy of the entire squadron last week-end, was Cary Grant McCarthy who was seen driving around in a swell car with a lot of well companions. It seems that he didn't know some of his friends and they are just a little put out about it.

Mr. Art Krosch claims that he will have an important announcement to make one of these days, and everyone is waiting to hear it. It seems that he came in last Saturday night and woke one of his buddies to have a talk with him. All that could be discovered was the fact that he had done something important that evening, and he was pretty well pleased about it. He says that he will tell the boys in a couple of weeks.

Mr. Sady has a pleasant smile on his face these days, but only one or two people know what it is all about. He has something up his sleeve, but he seems to be keeping it there. Why not break down and tell the boys what it's all about, Mr. Sady?

C. E. (Buck) Fisher, Mr. Robinson, and "Gremlin" Judnick, went cow-punching last Sunday, and really had a time. The boys were observed riding around the area in the morning, but that got too tame, so in the P. M. they went out to the ranch of a friend of theirs, and chased cattle all afternoon. They claim to have done quite a bit of punching, and even a little branding.

One of the most unhappy men in the squadron is a young gentleman by the name of "Longhorn." He doesn't do anything but mope around, and talk to himself. He is continually muttering the name of "Jane" to himself. When asked what the trouble is, he gets sad-eyed and melancholy, and two big tears slide down his cheeks. It seems that the reason for all his sorrow is the fact that "Jane" has finished her work at school here, and has gone back home. We hope that "Longhorn" will be able to stand the bitter sorrow of separation.

A-S Max Dysart had his folks down over the week-end, and introduced them to many of the fellows in the squadron. He took them around the campus, and arranged for them to have a meal at the cafeteria. Both of his parents were highly impressed with the Detachment, and hope to be able to visit it again.

I guess this about winds up another week of news, and so, until next week, we will say thirty, and leave you with this thought. It matters little why Mussolini abdicated, just so long as he does it.

You can't say, "Sure We'll Win the War." Unless, You're fighting or you're buying War Bonds regularly.

Hitler is said to be writing a book to be published posthumously. We can hardly wait.

The two softest jobs in the world are those of the hair-dresser to Benito Mussolini and Minister of Justice for Adolf Hitler.

Out in Kansas the farm shortage is so acute that they call the scare-crows in to dinner to take the place of the absent hired hands.

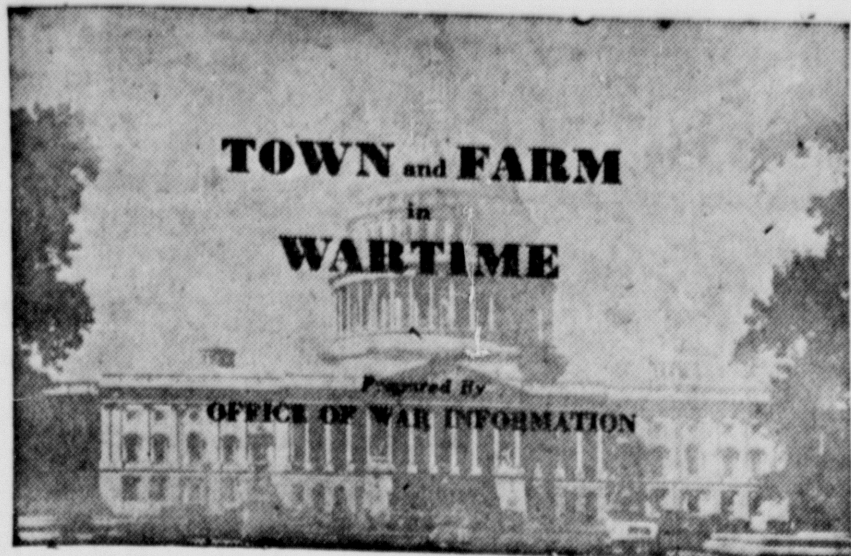

Physical examinations for the army have now got to the point that when you come before the medical officer he just feels you. If you're warm, you're in.

RATION REMINDER
 Sugar: Stamp No. 13 good for 5 pounds through August 15. Stamps Nos. 15 and 16 are good through October 31 for 5 pounds each for home canning purposes. Housewives may apply to their local ration boards for more if necessary.
 Coffee: Stamp No. 22 (1 lb.) good through August 11.
 Shoes: Stamp No. 18 (1 pair) is valid through October 31.
 Meat, etc.: Red stamps P, Q, R, and S, expire July 31. Red Stamp T is valid July 25, expires August 31; U is valid August 1, expires August 31; V is valid August 8, expires August 31; W, is valid August 15, expires August 31.

TO EQUALIZE GASOLINE RATIONS
 Equalizing of gasoline rationing throughout the United States east of the Rocky Mountains will be recommended by the Petroleum Administration for War within sixty days. This action, aimed to spread the burden of war equally among all people, will probably result in some increase in gasoline rations in the East and some decrease in the Middle West and Southwest, according to Petroleum Administrator Ickes. It is not anticipated that there will be enough gasoline for driving which is not necessary.

CORN NEEDED FOR WAR INDUSTRIES
 Farmers who sell their corn to a country elevator buying for the Commodity Credit Corporation before August 10 are guaranteed extra payments to cover any increase in corn prices between the date they sell and October 31. Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator, has commended farmers who sell corn to relieve shortages in war industries and for feed, and has announced that more than 6 million bushels have been purchased since July 1.

HOME CANNING JARS
 More home canning jars and covers were made in the first five months of this year than in the entire year of 1942, in anticipation of an unprecedented volume of home canning. Housewives will profit from a study of directions that come with each box of jars and covers, for the new three-piece canning top—glass lid, metal screw band, and rubber ring—must be used differently from other types of covers. Quality of jars and covers produced this year, says WPB, is high.

SOLDIERS GET JOBS
 Men discharged from the armed services because of disabilities have a direct contact with the Veterans Employment representative in their own home town through a division of the United States Employment Service. Every attempt is made to inform the veteran of his re-employment rights under the Selective Service Act, help him get special training through the Veterans Administration, and to help him get a job in actual war production work.

RETURN EMPTY BOTTLES
 Empty beverage bottles should be returned as soon as possible, says WPB's Conservation Division, to relieve the unnecessary drain on essential war production that results when new bottles must be made. All old beverage bottles can be put back into use, because they are completely cleaned and sterilized at the bottling plants.

NO NEW TIRES FOR SPARES
 New tires will not be rationed as spares in the next few months except to such persons as firemen and doctors, OPA announced recently. Drivers that do not have a fifth tire usable for a spare occasionally, may get a certificate for a used or recapped tire for that purpose.

NEED TURKEYS FOR SOLDIERS
 Because turkey will be the main course of Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day dinners on every battlefield, American turkey raisers have been asked by the WFA to supply about 10 million pounds of turkey meat during August and September for shipping to armed forces overseas. The public is asked to refrain from eating turkey for a few weeks until this urgent demand for the armed forces has been met. Later in the fall civilians will have a supply of turkey approaching an all-time record production.

HOME REPAIRS ARE ESSENTIAL
 Wartime restrictions on building new homes make it important that houses should be kept in good repair, according to Federal Housing officials. New home building is largely restricted to war industry areas and the majority of American families must depend on their present housing for the duration of the war.

PRICE CEILING FOR HOGS
 A ceiling price of $14.75 per hundred weight, Chicago basis, will be set on live hogs early in August, according to the OPA. This action was concurred in by the War Food Administration. The ceiling is below the 22-year high, but is above prices which live hogs brought in 1942.

HOSE GRADING NOT REQUIRED
 Women's rayon hosiery does not have to be labeled as Grade A or Grade B, the OPA said recently, although ceiling price and gauge or needle count regulations are still in force. The choice as to whether the Grade A or B mark will be placed on rayon hose is now left to the dealer.

OVEN CANNING NOT RECOMMENDED
 Home canners have been warned against the oven method of canning food by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Not only is oven canning slow and unsatisfactory, but it may lead to serious accidents as a result of misunderstanding of canning techniques. Disadvantages of oven canning mentioned by the USDA are: "Juice bubbles out or steams away; peaches and pears are likely to darken. For the vegetables that need high heat to kill bacteria, oven canning is not safe. Even though the oven goes to 250 degrees F, or higher, food inside the glass jars stays at about the boiling point." And the boiling point of water, 212 degrees F, is not sufficient heat to kill dangerous bacteria in a reasonable time in beans, peas, corn, and other non-acid vegetables and meat. For canning these, the Department recommends only a steam pressure canner, and for fruits and tomatoes the boiling water bath.

WAR PRISONERS IN U. S.
 Prisoners of war interned in the U. S. total 65,058, the War Department has announced. Of these, 45,355 are Germans, 19,641 are Italians, and 62 are Japanese. The Japanese are interned at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, and the others in 37 prisoner of war camps situated in 20 states.

POSTPONE INDUCTION OF STUDENTS
 Induction of students 18 or 19 years old may be postponed until the end of their academic year, the Selective Service Bureau of the War Manpower Commission has announced, if their call to the armed forces comes during the last half of a school year. This applies to students in high schools and similar institutions.

DRY ONION PRICES
 Maximum prices that show an increased return for the farmer over last year have been established for dry onions at the country shipper level. Existing prices at retail will not be raised—and may even be somewhat lower—says OPA.

Gordon Dickerson Is Transferred To Specialists School

In a recent letter, Gordon Lynn Dickerson, stated that he had been transferred to an Enlisted Specialists School, where he will study wire communications. He says, "I weigh 138 pounds and am as hard as a rock. I weighed about 125 when I went into the service. I like the Anti-Air Craft Artillery and am satisfied that I got into it. Our barracks are located about a hundred yards from the beach, which makes it mighty cool and nice. We have a swell bunch of men here."

"Mummy!" called the small son of the house, as he came in from the front garden. "A man wants to see you."

"Ask who he is," his mother replied from the inside of the house.

A few seconds later the little boy dashed inside, his eyes wide open with fright.

"Mummy," he whispered in tones of awe, "he looks just like a man, but he says he's an insaniatary specter."

Our greatest enemies are those who rob us of our good opinion of ourselves.—William Hazlitt.

SPARE THOSE SHOES!

They're in this war too, you know, and just like our soldiers — should be kept in perfect trim.

You should keep two pair of shoes or more in constant repair, and change them often. They will last longer, and your feet will not become so tired.

WORTH'S SHOE SHOP

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

House built upon a Rock.

"A wise man... built his house upon a rock. And the rain descended and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not for it was founded upon a rock."

Baptist Attendance Above 1942

Attendance at the Sunday School of the First Baptist Church in Canyon is running well above that of last year, with the average of 290 for the past eight weeks. The superintendent, Virgil Henson, says this is almost a record for summer attendance.

Every phase of the church work is better than last year, according to word from pastor, Dr. Roy L. Johnson, and he is grateful for the fine cooperation of the many church-minded people of Canyon. Volunteer offerings are setting a new record and will enable the church to liquidate all its mortgage debt by the end of August, if the present rate of gifts continues.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning and evening on "Hell" and "Heaven," two neglected subjects. All services are being held as usual during the summer.

Getting jittery about what might happen won't help any. The one thing that will help is to roll up our sleeves... all of us... and hit the line harder. That's the American way, and we have not the least doubt that is just exactly what we are going to do.—American Business.

Rooms Needed For Week End Visitors Of Boys In Air Corps

Mrs. Geraldine Green, Dean of Women, has asked that all people who have rooms which they would not mind renting to students or to visiting families of soldiers during the week ends to see or call her at her office during this week.

SERVILITY

Rushing from car to building, Mussolini carefully opened an umbrella and held it over his head. A visitor to Rome, eager to see the dictator, was disappointed when the umbrella obstructed his view. Quickly he glanced at the cloudless sky, then back to the Duce, and said: "How come the umbrella? It isn't raining."

The bulldog jaw and the bald head shot from under the umbrella, "But it's raining in Berlin," he replied.

"Can you let me have a dollar for a month, old boy?"
 "What does a month-old boy want with a dollar?"

Your Food Will Stay Fresher

If Put In Your Electric Refrigerator Promptly.

The sooner you put perishable foods . . . milk, meats and vegetables . . . in the safe, cold interior of your electric refrigerator, the longer they will stay fresh and appetizing and less scarce food will be wasted. Your grocer and butcher refrigerate milk and meats until you buy them, but once they leave the store refrigerator, these perishable foods begin to lose the cold which protects them from spoiling.

The next time you buy perishable foods, or when milk is delivered to your home, shorten, if you can, the time it takes to get these foods into your refrigerator. Minutes saved will add hours to the time milk and other foods will keep.

Who are non-essential travelers?

You are the judge of whether or not your trip is essential—and your judgment is what our government is relying upon.

Please consider these points when you think of traveling on the railroads this summer and for the duration:

1. Your trip may take a Pullman berth or chair car seat needed by men in uniform traveling under orders.
2. Your trip may delay war workers, not in uniform, in reaching their vital jobs.
3. Your trip may deprive men and women in the service of a furlough trip to visit their homefolks. If you do take a trip, plan for it in advance, travel light, consider taking a box lunch to avoid delayed meals in the diners, and make up your mind to put up with certain inconveniences and crowded conditions.

WHAT ABOUT VACATION TRAVEL?

Vacations should be spread out over the year, not confined to summer months.

A vacation trip should be confined to one round trip only, starting and returning on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Travel in chair cars whenever possible, and please carry only one piece of luggage.

Consult your Santa Fe Agent about your travel plans. You'll find his friendly advice helpful.
